

Angharad Wynne, BA, MA

Angharad is a writer, storyteller, or Cyfarwydd. Having spent much of her life following her feet along pathways through the portals of ancient myth, folklore, song and poetry of Britain, these days she shares her knowledge and stories with audiences around the world through performances, retreats, pilgrimages, storytelling gatherings, ceremony and writing. These are conceived as radical acts of re-remembering our soulful, deep humanity and re-weaving ourselves back into fully engaged participation within the web of life.

She is Director of Anian and Dadeni and co-founder of Animate Earth Collective. Her first English language book, Wise Women: Myths and Stories for Midlife and Beyond, with Sharon Blackie, was published by Virago in 2024.
